As an FYI, does the Mayors office have a position on the NFL tax policy?
Thanks,
Jenn

Totally. I'll work with her to make sure you get what you need.

I talked to Michele about it on the phone on Monday: she's going to get us the list of abatements that the NFL requires, the list of abatements that other cities have offered competitively on top of that, and Department of Revenue costs of all of them, so that we have something to base a decision on. She said she'd get that to us early next month, so I'm sure that as soon as we get it, we can make an informed decision. Make sense?

Tuesday mornings are our staff meetings, which usually end up tying me up most of the morning.

Mornings are generally better -- does Thursday work for you?

Yeah, the weather looks awful.
Tuesday am looks good for me.
Are mornings better or afternoons?

Hi Jennifer,

Nice to meet you as well. 7 weeks into this new job, and I still feel like I'm just getting situated! It's really great, just a lot to learn around City Hall.

Would love to get coffee sometime. I would suggest tomorrow, but I'm not quite sure what the day will look like as all this snow heads our way. Any days next week that look good for you?

Looking forward to meeting and working with you!

Thanks,
Kate

Hi Kate,
Nice to meet you.
John said that Michele is going to get to your office the list of abatements that the NFL would require for Mlps to host the Super Bowl.
I'll follow up with her to make sure that happens.
Let me know if you'd like to meet up some time to get coffee.
Jenn

Kate and Jenn, please meet each other! Kate is Mayor Hodges' communications director and is generally awesome. Jenn is comm director at the Minnesota Sports Facilities Authority and is doing a bang-up job. Since the MSFA and the City are pretty much married to each other at this point, I thought I'd introduce the two of you because you're both great and because we're sure to keep working together. Enjoy!
