Of all the properties he is the only one i'm aware of to want to insert an "Addendum". You may have not seen a previous email but he wanted to put it to vote in front of the City Council. I called him and talked him out of it. I spoke to him about confidentiality, who needs to know and when they need to know it. I even said if the static continues that there are plenty of other properties and the training group that usually gets their way in every other city in the United States of America will scrap that building as a target.

But if that's not in the agreement were sunk. All it takes is one mishap and they have an email trail saying NO helo work. Everyone goes to unemployment line.....i move in your house..eat your food...drink your beer....it just gets ugly.

Ya...he is going down a path we want to avoid.
One note....we learned this the hard way...
If anything goes before the city council it needs to be a closed session with no media present
