

Buck Humphrey Joins New School Communications

New School Communications is proud to announce the addition of Hubert "Buck" H. Humphrey.

March 14, 2004 (St. Paul) - New School Communications, a rapidly growing full-service St. Paul public relations firm, is proud to announce the addition of Hubert "Buck" H. Humphrey as a senior counselor.

Buck most recently served as a leader on the national finance team for the John Kerry for President campaign, and was a candidate for Secretary of State in 2002. In 2000, he was the state director of the Al Gore presidential campaign in Minnesota. Buck previously worked in governmental relations for AgriBank, as well as in real estate finance.

"Buck will be an excellent addition to building our regional and national bipartisan public affairs practice," Blois Olson, founder and president, said. "I have known Buck for over ten years, and he shares the passion and innovation for a new approach to public affairs consulting for which New School is well-known."

"Buck is sharp, creative, connected, and focused," Patrick Rosenstiel, senior counselor, said. "He brings to New School exactly what our clients expect from our talented team."

"The New School team is clearly the agency of the future in the Twin Cities, and has a growing reputation nationally," Humphrey said. "From public affairs to traditional corporate communications, New School is the firm to which clients constantly turn for innovative strategy and tactics as well as creative executions."

New School Communications is the region's fastest growing and most innovative full-service public relations and public affairs firm. Founded in 1998, New School has grown over twenty-five percent per year. New School has local, regional and national clients in the areas of food and beverage, legal issues and litigation support, professional services, people and personalities, telecommunications, real estate, health care, nonprofits, manufacturing, and public affairs.

I don't know who you are but your story is ABSOLUTELY FALSE.

New School Communications does not do ANY political work. Buck Humphrey may have persued a work with Rowley PRIOR to his employment at New School but we do not do any campaign work.

I demand a retraction immediately.
