Hi Richard. Our current thinking is that we would be delighted to have you as the concluding speaker for our faculty-wide series on Law and the Conditions for Democracy. This would maximize the number of law faculty who could attend your talk and engage with your work. We would like to invite you to come back to Durham on a Friday in late October/November. Are there any openings on your calendar? October 27? November 3? November 10?

Many thanks,
Lisa

Yes I should have some time over the summer

And also Friday morning if you want

Congress takes precedence! Any chance you would like to do a summer workshop at the law school? We have regular Wednesday workshops throughout the summer. We ordinarily reserve them for internal speakers, but there is high interest in your work, and it also intersects with our own faculty project we've been calling "Law and the Conditions for Democracy."

I will also ask around to see if enough colleagues are free on Friday morning who might be able to organize a breakfast or coffee.

Our thanks again,
Lisa
