Details: Alliant Techsystems Incorporated corporate headquarters is located at 5050 Lincoln Drive in Edina, Minnesota. The company is a world-wide developer, producer, and supplier of military equipment. One of their major customers is the United States Department of Defense. Alliant Techsystems has historically had problems with the subjects and ALLIANT ACTION.

ALLIANT ACTION claims to use nonviolent means to protest. However, much like ALF/ELF, the term "nonviolent" may have a different meaning in the context of the way the group chooses to use the term. ALLIANT ACTION has an Internet website
